What Are the 3 Branches of Government?

Before diving into worksheets, it's helpful to have a quick overview of the three branches so parents and educators can guide kids more effectively.

The legislative branch is responsible for making laws. It consists of Congress, which is divided into two parts: the Senate and the House of Representatives. Kids can learn about how laws are proposed, debated, and passed through fun exercises.

2. Executive Branch

The executive branch enforces the laws. It is headed by the President, who works with the Vice President and the Cabinet. Worksheets often include activities about the President's duties and how this branch manages the day-to-day operations of the government.

Many worksheets include crossword puzzles, word searches, and matching exercises that reinforce vocabulary related to government branches, such as “Congress,” “President,” “Supreme Court,” and “checks and balances.” These fun activities help children remember key terms without feeling like they’re studying.

Visual Aids and Diagrams

Colorful charts and diagrams often accompany worksheets, illustrating how the branches interact with each other.
