This article synthesizes her deep insights into twenty profound, contextually grounded facts, revealing the layered realities of women's lives from the 5th to the late 15th century across Europe, the Islamic world, and beyond. This legal flexibility allowed women like Gerberga, daughter of King Lothair II, to control territories in the 6th century, leveraging marriage alliances and land grants not merely as pawns, but as instruments of political leverage. Levy notes that such practices reveal a nuanced interplay: while formal codes constrained
